

Back-to-Back: 2020 Dodge Dynasty Champion – Greg Perry

Congratulations to Greg Perry for winning his second straight Dodge Dynasty Worlds Championship! Breaking an incredible streak of 8 different people winning the past 8 championships, Twitch also becomes the first back-to-back winner since Jeffrey Ronaldinho Pohlmann in 2009 & 2010. Derrick Henry proved last year was no fluke by posting another huge season, and Davante Adams blasted to 'best receiver on the planet' status (with some opposition from the greater KC area). Lamar Jackson kinda sucked this year, but really turned it on in the playoffs when he wasn't racing to the bathroom. Aided by other clutch acquisitions like Antonio Gibson, Myles Gaskin, Corey Davis, etc, Twitch's team brushed off the early loss of Saquon Barkley & once again took home the title, defeating Dave 121.1-84.5. Congrats Twitch!

Runner-up Dave Nickelsen finished 2nd overall in pts scored this year, but had to take the long road through the playoffs after just missing out on the division crown behind newcomer Jason Bratten. The 2018 winner has now appeared in five Dynasty championship games, a new record. Jason, meanwhile, inherited an 0-2 Brian squad and merely went 9-2 the rest of the year while picking up the Dynasty Survivor victory along the way. Led by James "Smoke" Robinson and Patrick "Mirrors" Mahomes, Smoke + Mirrors was one of two teams to come up just short in the semifinals despite breaking triple digits (along with Mike Kerkel). And kudos to Yinzer team-supporting Jeremiah Yugulis, who despite this flaw has reached the Dynasty playoffs for the 7th consecutive season, the longest active streak in the league.

As for my team, it finished: 1st overall in scoring again for a record 5th time in the league's 13-year history, top two for the 7th time (& 4th consecutive year), top three for the 9th time, and registered the 2nd highest points total ever at 1415.3 pts (trailing only my own record of 1466 in 2018). End result: bounced out of the playoffs once again. Still sitting on 0 titles. Lather, rinse, repeat.

Thank you all, I appreciate everyone's flexibility during this crazy & unprecedented season. I hope to see all of you again next year, this time hopefully in person at next year's Dynasty draft (held Saturday evening of Labor Day weekend as always). Thanks again everybody, have a Happy New Year!
